Tablesides Tree Lighting in Harvard Square

Posted 11.23.09 By LEAH KLEIN

Henrietta's Table

On Saturday, November 28th from 5:00 to 6:30 there will be costumes and caroling, hot chocolate and cold cheeks as locals and visitors alike gather around the tree in Charles Square, the courtyard at the Charles Hotel in Harvard Square. It is fun to be out in the square as revelers sing and bands play. Santa Claus usually makes a stop and visits the children before the tree is lit, handing out small gifts. Once you realize that your cheeks have gone numb and you may no longer feel your fingertips, there is no need to stay out in the cold.

Duck into Henrietta's Table and grab a seat at the bar or a table by the windows (most tables have a view of the courtyard). From your cozy spot at the bar, sipping an apple spiced cider with Brandy and local apple cider or Farmer's Marketini with cranberry juice, Thatchers Spiced Ginger Cider and Triple Sec. You will be able to watch the tree light up the night.

Henrietta's Table sources as much of their food as local as possible and offers great family-style sides to go along with your meal. They offer a children's menu and are very family-friendly as well.

Shine on and enjoy the rest of Harvard Square's Sparklefest throughout December!
