For Cyber Monday, Hotel Deals With an American Accent

By RACHEL LEE HARRIS NOV. 19, 2014

It's usually the promise of sun and sand during the cold winter months that wins the favor of Cyber Monday shoppers looking for a cheap getaway. But this year historic hotels across the country might give Caribbean beachfronts a run for their money with the promise of picturesque settings, luxury renovations and solid savings.

And for those who truly relish the pressure-cooker competition that comes with post-Thanksgiving sale shopping, several hotels are going meta with a "power hour" of even deeper discounts.

Triumph Hotels, comprising six boutique properties in New York, will add an extra 20 percent to its 30 percent discount on rooms at any location if booked between 4 and 5 p.m. on Dec. 1 (valid for travel from Dec. 2 to March 31; triumphhotels.com). And from 11 a.m. to noon, the Charles Hotel in Cambridge, Mass., will do the same for stays between Dec. 4 and March 31 (charleshotel.com).
